EDUCATIONAL NOTES

MUCH INTEREST IN CHOOSING CAST FOR SENIOR PLAY

By Walt. Le Noir Church

There is an eager and enjoyable contest going on in the High School. A very interesting question is being decided on the merits of the contestants. "Who shall be chosen to take the principal parts in the Seniors' proposed play, 'Amarilly of Clothesline Alley,'" a 5-act drama to be given at the High School soon.

War or peace with Germany, or Japan, or Mexico, is, of course, of more or less importance; but the present paramount problem must, till decided, remain "Who's Who in the play?"

"The Senior class is larger even than last year. Its dramatic talent is being scientifically tried out." So says one of the seniors, who looks as if she might make a hit as Amarilly, herself, if that is the star part in the cast, requiring five characters, "One for each act, I suppose," giggled a witty guy, not yet old enough to be awed by a dignified senior, or in fact by any of her sisters lower down the ladder of scholastic ambition. The senior did not vouchsafe even a smile. Too puerile.

But as the try-out is made by Miss "Abbie C. Terry, T.S.L.D. Oral Exp.," as the Public School Directory gives it, there is no doubt that each part will be fitly taken and aptly filled.

For the graduating exercises in June, the senior class being so large, not more than five tickets may be given to each graduate for family and friends. The High School auditorium would hold no more. But, it is whispered that the great audience hall of the new Methodist church may be obtained. That would make a large difference in many ways and solve several difficult problems. This thoughtful, intelligent senior was asked why it is, in her opinion, that so few High School graduates go to college.

Her answer is illuminating. In substance, this:

There are several reasons. The graduate may not care enough for further education in school and prefer to do other things.

That disincliation may be limited to the parents, who think their boy already has more education than they ever had, or than he really needs to fight the battle of life as they successfully fought it.

Both pupil and parents may be willing for the pupil to take further education, but finances prohibit or some other outside reason.

Before a student is admitted to college on a high school diploma, the grade must be 2. But, as a matter of fact, quite a large proportion of graduates get only 3. Of course, such might make up the deficiency by vacation work. A few do, but the majority accept the situation, glad enough, perhaps, to quit school drudgery (for the work is drudgery to such pupils as a rule). Few things more onerous to the apathetic pupil than is study, if disliked.

The fault is frequently with the parent who does not keep in touch with what the pupil is doing—blandly taking it for granted that all is well and, perhaps, glad to be rid of the responsibility. (What's a teacher for, anyhow?)

There would not be so many to "flunk" if parents would sooner impress upon the pupil's mind the importance of a good education and particularly in some special line helpful to prepare the pupil for the work or business expected to be undertaken. It is unfair not to so assist the student in so important a problem, thus leaving too much to chance and leaving the striver unprepared for a sad disappointment which sometimes proves disastrous in more ways than one. It is worse for a girl who may suddenly be forced to earn her own living. But it is bad enough for a boy. Such disappointment naturally comes to the student who considers release from school a finish rather than the commencement of the real struggle in life, to which mere school contests are insignificant.

With such clear-cut ideas, that young girl would probably make a good teacher or a wise trainer of children in any capacity.

She has not been here very long. Coming from New York, she said that what makes her prefer Glendale to any other place she knows are the people, the climate, and the location of Glendale.

Evidently the Glendale Union High School graduates are taught to think what they say, being able also to say what they think.

That, after all, is the essence of education that educates.

Of course the P.-T. A. is endeavoring to fill the need above suggested. But so many parents will not seriously undertake that work and very many would not know how, even if they would bother with it. "Leave it to Teacher."

AT STATE CAPITOL

SOME IMPORTANT MEASURES BEING CONSIDERED BY LEGISLATORS

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—One of the first bills reported favorably by the assembly judiciary committee was that by assemblyman L. L. Dennett of Modesto providing for a more simple and inexpensive administration of estates under $1,500 in net value where the heirs are the widow or children or both, of the deceased. In such case under his bill, the court shall set a date for a hearing and unless it shall be shown that the net estate exceeds $1,500 in value the court shall by direct order close the administratior and turn the estate over to the widow or the children, or both therewith, first deducting the amount necessary to pay the bills for the last illness and the burial of the deceased.

The thirty bills referring to the powers and duties of school trustees are to be passed in a lump to a committee of three from the assembly committee on education and a like committee from the Senate committee, who will confer with the state board of education and combine the lot into harmonious amendments to Section 1617 of the present code. This was decided at a meeting of the assembly committee on education and right happy was the committee to have "this way out" pointed out to it by Job and Will Wood and E. R. Snyder of the state department of education.

Arthur A. Wendering of Berkeley is designated as reader of the assembly but just to show that his four years' experience as an officer of the legislature is productive of something in the line of actual lawmaking he is preparing a piece of legislation that will mean real money for the state. Wendering, after a conference with F. M. Smith, the man largely responsible for the free text book law, is framing an amendment to the bill relating to the powers and duties of the state board of education which would give the board power to sell text books no longer in fit condition for purposes of instruction, to manufacturers of paper pulp or similar substances at the highest prices obtainable. The present market price is 50 cents per 100 pounds.

Road bills are now in the hands of the finance commitetes of both houses of the legislature, having been passed over by the highway committees. In the finance committees the real fights on these bills will be staged, these committees having quite a lot to say about raids upon the state treasury.

A legislative "preparedness" meeting, to be attended by the military affairs committee of each house, the governor and adjutant general is soon to be had. A preparedness program for California is to be outlined.

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T. A.

Glendale Union High School P.-T. A. holds its next regular meeting on Monday, March 5, at 3:15 p. m. in the music room. The boys' glee club and the girls' glee club will both give numbers on the program. We are making the meeting a welcome to mothers of the new class that has just entered the high school. Everyone is urged to be present. Refreshments will be served.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DINNER

The Epworth League of the Casa Verdugo M. E. Church were delightfully entertained Friday night with a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Murphy. The guests assembled at the home of Miss Gladys Sharpe, expecting to be entertained there, and were taken to the beautiful new home of Mr. Murphy, where they enjoyed a genuine housewarming. After a delicious dinner, a number of toasts were given, J. B. Clarke acting as toastmaster. Mrs. Eckman and Miss Lois Murphy rendered a violin duet. The guests were then requested to write their names on a paper which was dropped into a newel post, left unfinished for the purpose.

Those present were Rev. Julius R. Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Tyrrel, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pennington, Mrs. Clara Robinson, Mrs. Eckman, Misses Olive Murphy, Ethel Murphy, Nyda Dana, Gladys Sharpe, Maude Soper, Edna Murphy, Vera Murphy, Lois Murphy, Goldie Drake, Adele Drake, Nan Brown, Ethel West, Messrs. Vern Nyman, Edwin Murphy, Olmstead, O. M. Newby, John Tyrrel, Carol Murphy, Harold Venske, Bert Anguson, Howard Rockhold, Isaac C. Rice.

VENICE TRUSTEES BEFORE GRAND JURY

BEACH CITY OFFICIALS CHARGED WITH USING CITY PROPERTY FOR THEIR OWN BENEFIT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The charge that the city trustees of Venice are using city property for their own benefit and taking outright other city property, is being investigated to-day by the grand jury. Dozens of Venice business and professional men and day laborers are appearing as witnesses before the grand jury.

JUSTIFIES GERMANY'S ACT

SAYS ATTEMPT TO ALLY MEXICO AND JAPAN DEFENSE MEASURE IN CASE OF WAR WITH U. S.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, March 3.—Foreign Secretary Zimmerman to-day justified Germany's action in seeking to ally Mexico and Japan against the United States by saying that such a course was merely for defense and was not to be executed unless war was declared by the United States.

MEXICO TRIES TO BUY CARS

VILLA'S SECRETARY WHILE VISITING DETROIT AND TOLEDO TELLS OF GERMANY'S ACTIVITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOLEDO, March 3.—Local automobile men say that Germany's activities in Mexico were known in Detroit three weeks ago. Villa's secretary was here trying to buy two hundred automobiles. He had plenty of money and said that Germany was financing Carranza while Japan was backing Villa. American manufacturers refused to sell him the cars.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS TOMORROW

THERE WILL BE NO EXTRA SESSION UNLESS INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS DEMAND IT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Congress will adjourn at noon tomorrow. There will be no extra session until June at the earliest unless developments in the German situation seem to require the action of Congress.

ARMED NEUTRALITY MEASURE WILL PASS

GERMANY'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF JAPANESE-MEXICAN CONSPIRACY REMOVES OPPOSITION TO WILSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Germany's acknowledgment of a Japanese-Mexican conspiracy appears to remove the last vestige of opposition in the Senate to the president's armed neutrality measure. It seems certain the bill will be passed before midnight to-night.

HOUSEWIVES TO CO-OPERATE

WOMEN OF LOS ANGELES WILL ASK MAYOR TO TAKE SOME ACTION AGAINST HIGH FOOD COST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The Housewives League are telegraphing to other California cities urging the women to organize and appear at their city halls Wednesday asking for lower food prices. There will be a quiet demonstration here Wednesday afternoon when members of the league will go to the city hall and ask Mayor Woodman to take some action.

SEEK TO PROVOKE TROUBLE

JAPANESE OFFICIALS SEE IN GERMANY'S ACT ATTEMPT TO FOSTER DISTRUST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, March 3.—Officials here are of the belief that the German letter was designed wholly to create a distrust of Japan in America and to cause trouble between the two nations.

HOGS REACH $13.90

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, March 3.—Heavy hogs sold for $13.90 per hundred on the Chicago market, the highest figure ever reached.

SENATOR O'GORMAN RETIRES

WASHINGTON, March 3.—United States Senator O'Gorman of New York, the last of the silk hat statesmen of the old order, will close his public career when the Senate adjourns. "I have completed an uninterrupted public service of 24 years," said the Senator to-day, "18 years as judge and 6 years as senator; and I must now give attention to my private affairs."

FLAG PRESENTATION

CERRITOS AVENUE SCHOOL RECEIVES BEAUTIFUL BANNER FROM W. R. C.

N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps presented the Cerritos avenue school with a beautiful American flag Friday afternoon, with appropriate presentation ceremonies. The pupils of the school marched out on the lawn and sang "The Star Spangled Banner" under the direction of Miss Ruth Mitchell, supervisor of music in the Tropico schools, and owing perhaps both to her efficient training and the inspiration of the moment, it was most beautifully sung. Miss Edna Brown's pupils, wearing little red and blue caps and carrying flags, sang another patriotic favorite. Miss Cora Hickman then gave a very pretty address on the flag, telling the children of the incident of the first flag raised over a school building, which occurred in Indiana. At the conclusion of her talk Miss Hickman introduced Mrs. Susie Ogier, who is the patriotic instructor of the Relief Corps, who presented the flag to the school for the Corps. Mrs. Ogier gave a very fine talk, which was listened to with great interest. Mrs. Ogier, when a little girl, had the distinction of meeting Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Chas. A. Bartow accepted the flag on behalf of the board of education of the Tropico schools and the Cerritos avenue school and thanked the Woman's Relief corps for the gift in well chosen words. One of the boy pupils raised the flag, when the salute to the flag was given by the children of the school.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremonies the Parent-Teacher association of the school held its regular meeting, when Mrs. Lee of Pasadena spoke on recreation for mothers, handling the subject in a very splendid manner. Following her address short talks were made by several visitors and members along the line of thought she presented. Miss Dorothy Shaw added a very pleasing piano selection to the program. The P.-T. A. finished paying for the new school Victrola, which was a source of satisfaction to the members.

UNION RESCUE MISSION ANNIVERSARY

Union Rescue Mission of Los Angeles will hold its usual annual anniversary on Sunday, March 11th, meetings being held at Temple Auditorium in the afternoon, beginning at three p. m. A splendid program has been provided, including a sacred concert by Prof. Ray Hastings, vocal and instrumental solos by Prof. Miller, the harpist, and Charlotte Elizabeth Wands, and Jack Saunders, the converted sailor, will sing "I'll sail the wild seas no more."

Mr. Melvin E. Trotter, well known from one end of the continent to the other as the greatest rescue mission evangelist, has been secured from Chicago to bring the annual message. Mr. Trotter is identified with rescue missions in all of the large cities in the United States, and has recently succeeded to the Pacific Garden Mission, made famous by Harry Monroe and Billy Sunday.

WALTER RANKIN INJURED

Word was received here to-day that Walter A. Rankin was one of the nine injured while returning from San Antonio to El Paso after the death of General Funston. He was seriously injured about the head and shoulders and was unconscious for several days. Mr. Rankin was a scout and interpreter for the Pershing punitive expedition in Mexico, being called away from here for duty in Mexico soon after his marriage to Clara N. Hare, the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Boss of 1445 West Seventh street. It is hoped that he is not as seriously injured as reported.

CHAPTER B. A. ELECTS

Chapter B. A. of P. E. O. met at the home of Miss Maud Cunningham, 330 S. Orange street, Friday morning for its regular business meeting. The election of officers for the ensuing year occurred at this time and are as follows: President, Mrs. Elsie Weaver; vice president, Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham; recording secretary, Mrs. Kate Parker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Nellie Case; treasurer, Mrs. Hallie Stamp; chaplain, Miss Maud Cunnigham; journalist, Mrs. Beryl Cross; organist, Mrs. Mabel Parker.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight. Increasing cloudiness Sunday. Heavy to killing frost Sunday morning. Northerly winds.

There is plenty of room at the top but the elevator is not running for most of us.

MRS. THAYER HERE

PASADENA WOMAN TELLS OF WORK FOR FOREIGNERS IN UNITED STATES

General Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A. R. met at the home of Mrs. S. C. Leppelman on Thursday afternoon, when a very interesting meeting was held, Mrs. Mary Gridley-Braly, the regent presiding. One of the visitors of the day was Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer of Pasadena who is chairman of the state committee of welfare for women and children. She gave a very instructive talk on the emigrant, especially as found in California. The D. A. R. are doing a very splendid work in trying to stand sponsor for the emigrant in California and aid them in every way possible to become intelligent American citizens. Teachers are paid to teach in the night schools and the foreign women are taught sewing, cooking and American ways of living. She told of a unique party given in Pasadena as an example of the way they are trying to solve the emigrant problem there. The foreigners were divided into different groups, each race by itself, and varied entertainment provided. Each class was asked to tell why they came to this country. The result was naturally a better understanding of the emigrant viewpoint and the emigrant was made to feel there was some one in this strange country who took an interest in him and his progress here. Mrs. Thayer asked the chapter if they had a night school for foreigners in Glendale and the ladies expressed the opinion that we did not have a sufficient number of the foreign element here to make one necessary. But she said that was generally the opinion in most places until an investigation was started. Mrs. Thayer said the D. A. R. are especially interested in making good American citizens. The immigrant with encouragement and help will be a benefit to our civilization. Each man brings to our shores inherited racial and national talents and certain personal faculties which, if we encourage and direct, will add strength to our land. We must get in close touch with these foreigners, teach them our language, our customs and weld the people in this country into an American race, "a race that will stand together for America in peace or in war—one in ideals, rights and privileges." Miss Minnie Hoover Linton, one of the members, has published a little book of verse and Mrs. Mabel Ocker read one of the poems, written in memory of Miss Linton's aunt, Mrs. Mary Catherine Chamberlain, who was a member of the chapter. Mrs. T. W. Preston, vice-president of the state walfare committee, read reports of what the different chapters in California are accomplishing in the way of night schools and charitable work. The local chapter contributes to the carrying on of these schools.

About $20 was added at this meeting to the mile of pennies that the chapter is collecting for the day nursery and maternity cottage. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

DEATH OF MRS. A. L. BUTLER

Mrs. Mabel Butler, wife of A. L. Butler of 409 Cedar street, died Thursday, March 1st, aged 38 years, 21 days, from what is believed to be ptomaine or mushroom poisoning.

The deceased was born February 10, 1879, in the state of New Jersey and had lived in California eleven years, eight years of the time in Glendale. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband, a daughter 17 years of age and a son of fifteen.

The funeral services will be held at the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors Monday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church officiating. Members of B. P. O. E. Drill Team, of which lodge Mr. Butler was a member, will act as pall bearers. Interment will be made at the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

DON WELLS INJURED

Donito Wells of 328 South Maryland avenue was badly injured at about 9:30 o'clock Saturday forenoon when he was attending to errands for his sister. When riding a bicycle on West Broadway near the Evening News office, his wheel collided with an electric light standard with such force that the shock jarred the heavy cast iron standard sufficiently to break one of the large glass globes. The boy was picked up in an unconscious condition by O. W. Tarr of the Home Oil Station, placed in an auto and taken to Dr. Young's office where the bruises were dressed and other necessary attention given to the lad.

MEN SHOULD LEARN HOW TO CULTIVATE LAND

Too much can not be said through the public press favoring the practice of making use of every vacant foot of land. Why should men, women and children be hungry when there are thousands upon thousands of acres of unused land in the United States? This unused land is not confined only to the great deserts, but it may be found in thickly populated agricultural sections.

A lack of knowledge as to how to plow, plant, sow and cultivate is the primary cause of so much useful land going uncultivated. There are a sufficient number of idle men in need of work loafing at the Los Angeles Plaza to cultivate all the productive, unused land in the city of Los Angeles, but the first difficulty is to get the men and the land together and the second difficulty is to find men who know how to cultivate the land when it is placed under their control.

What would take place if a competent person would be employed by a civic organization in Glendale to give instruction in agricultural work free of charge to all men and boys who would wish to learn how to fertilize, plow, irrigate and cultivate land? There should be a large number of applicants for instruction. One trouble nowadays is that people are not sufficiently educated in the practical things of life. Societies whose objects are to advance the condition of things must stop talking around questions up for consideration and make haste to grapple these questions in a practical way.

TREAT THE APHIS (Plant Lice) EARLY

Every grower of peas, beans, cabbages, cucumbers, melons and other plants likely to be troubled with aphis in any form, should watch them very carefully and at the very first appearance of the insects, give treatment at once. First, because the plants are then smaller than they will later become, making treatment easier, but also because if you wait until damage is done to the plants, the insects will have become so numerous that the constant hatching will result in the destruction of the plants notwithstanding treatment thoroughly given.

Probably strong soap suds containing one part to 400 of "40 per cent. nicotine sulphate" or "Black Leaf 40" is the best treatment, taking care to apply it to the under side of the leaves in particular. This is also as good a spray as any for the black aphis on peach trees which sometimes are so numerous as to make the young leaves die and turn brown. About the same amount of the spray liquid as has been used on the top of the tree should be soaked into the ground about its roots, as in the case of the woolly aphis on apples and pears, to insure good control of the lice. For woolly aphis, the spraying must be very thorough and repeated when necessary, and wood ashes, blue stone, or tobacco stems or dust on the soil about the tree are a help.

In few cases only are these two kinds of tree lice destroyed, but if they are given thorough treatment they will become much less injurious. The common native lady bugs help in controlling all kinds of aphis and they should never be destroyed, either in adult form or while in the form of a dark-colored, bristly larva, three-quarters of an inch long, pointed at both ends, with a couple of square yellow or red spots on each side of the back near the middle. These queer looking creatures are very frequently not recognized as the larva form of this insect. However, the main point in controlling the aphis is early treatment before they become too numerous and the plants and trees are weakened by their work.

WORMY APPLES AND PEARS

The trees of the apple family will soon be in bloom and the time has arrived to think of how to prevent the worms in the fruit. Spraying with arsenical solutions is the best and cheapest way to do this, and the best formula is:

Arsenate of lead paste.....6 lbs.
(or half as much of the powder)
Water .....100 gals.
or for small quantities
1 ounce of paste to 1 gallon of water.

This spray should be kept agitated while using as lead arsenate does not dissolve in water and must be kept in suspension.

As to the time to apply, it should be done just after the petals of the bloom have fallen out before the little green leaves at the lower part of the blossoms have closed over the calyx cup, which will occur in a few days. Perhaps within a week after the first bloom drops is about right for the first spraying, dropping the material as much as possible into the little bloom cup at the top of the young fruit; then, as the bloom is so uneven (in orchards with a number of varieties at least) the spraying should be repeated in about ten days or two weeks; and often another spraying at the end of two weeks more will prove profitable.

This usually controls the coddling moth but in some localities, a spraying later in the summer is also a paying proposition. The burlap band 3 or 4 thicknesses around the trunk if carefully watched, will help in the control of these insects but all now agree that the spray is much the most satisfactory.

INDUSTRIAL MEASURES

The industrial measures before the legislature are many and promise bitter controversies both in committee and on the floor. Among the many introduced by organized labor may be mentioned the anti-injunction bills which prohibit courts from granting injunctions in labor disputes. A bill practically remodeling nearly all the factories and industrial establishments in the state, one of which among its many requirements provides that every employee shall have five hundred cubic feet of air space which air must be changed four times an hour by means of exhaust fans or improved ventilators. There are many other regulations with reference to light, heat, sanitation, etc., etc., productive of great expense and without which California seems to have gotten along fairly well to the present. Another bill provides that wages must be paid entirely in cash; another that no person under the age of eighteen may drive a motor car for hire. Others provide an absolute Sunday closing law which closes all pursuits and business "tight as a drum" except sports, amusements, saloons and work of absolute necessity. Another provides for a board to examine and license plumbers. Members representing small towns claim this bill will be a great inconvenience and is an attempt to unionize the plumbing industry. Another bill creates a board of examiners in music by which all music teachers in the state must be examined and licensed. This is also an organized labor measure. Several other bills abolish private employment agencies. Another increases the salary of the labor commissioner to $5000; gives him a superintendent of free state employment bureaus at $3000 a year; a chief deputy at $3000 a year; a deputy at $2400 a year with necessary assistants at $2100 a year; a statistician at $3000 a year; a stenographer at $1500 and $40,000 as a contingent fund.

Then there is the public utility mediation bill and the anti-boycott bill drafted by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The public utility mediation bill is designed to prevent any interruption of service on the part of any public utility serving the people with necessaries such as light, heat, power, water, communication and transportation until any pending dispute between the employer and employee is investigated and an attempt at mediation made by a board arranged for by the Railroad Commission. The anti-boycott bill is designed to prohibit what is termed the secondary boycott.

TALK WILL NOT ACCOMPLISH ANYTHING

A man of considerable financial means remarked a few days ago: "What is the trouble with the people of Glendale that they did not ask the Moreland Motor Truck Company to locate in Glendale?" If the man who asked the question, instead of finding fault with the people would head a paper with a $500 subscription to aid in purchasing a site for such a motor company, and then about fifty other man in his class come forward with like subscriptions, possibly the Moreland Co. could have been induced to locate in Glendale. It is not talk that builds up a community,—it is work,—it is dollars and cents. The next time, Mr. Citizen, you get to talking about raising money for a worthy purpose, just stop talking, make out a check for a handsome sum, suggest that your neighbor do the same and keep on making out checks, and stop talking.

CONGRESS ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

"The prohibition laws passed by the Sixty-fourth Congress have thrown a chill into the liquor interests from which they may never recover. The first national prohibition measures ever adopted by Congress were passed at this session, and their far-reaching character has astounded the brewers and distillers.

"The business has been made an outlaw in the United States mails. No liquor, not even in quart bottles or in hip pockets can now be taken into dry states. The nation's capital will be a dry city on and after November 1, 1917. Alaska has been made bone-dry. Porto Rico is to be bone-dry. What more could a lone prohibitionist ask in his first term?

"That the passage of the liquor anti-advertising law, coupled with the so-called Reed amendment preventing all shipments of liquor into dry states, has had a disastrous effect on the liquor interests of the country is proved by the fact that literally thousands of telegrams are reaching members of Congress, begging for an extension of time in the effective date of the law. These telegrams in many cases are signed by bankers and trust companies, indicating that the financial backers of the liquor industry feel the terrific blow which has been given. It is safe to assume that bankers will rapidly disconnect themselves from any responsibility for the industry in self protection.

"The anti-advertising law is far more comprehensive than is generally realized, for it not only prohibits advertising going through the mails to any state where there is a law against advertising or soliciting orders for liquors, but to dry points or places in wet states where advertising or soliciting orders is prohibited by local ordinance or regulation. In practice this will remove advertising of liquors from every newspaper in the United States, for no publisher can afford to keep track of all the thousands of places where he would become a law violator should a single copy of his paper be addressed to such a place. Under this law more than a thousand mail order liquor houses will be forced to close their doors."

CONSIDER THE REAL FACTS IN THE CASE

Every section of California is boosting the climate and the natural advantages of respective localities, which is in a sense good business on the part of the people of those sections, but when it comes to considering the facts from an honest standpoint Glendale has them all beaten badly, for there is no community that has quite all the advantages that this city possesses. Climate, nearness to large city, good roads, and desirable population, all belong to Glendale.

Mrs. A. S. Chase of 1500 Riverdale drive spent a few days this week vsiiting at Santa Barbara.

Miss H. E. Gulvin, formerly of Glendale, was the guest of her father, Thomas Gillette, the past week.

Miss Alice Dewey of Pasadena was the guest of Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres of 419 North Central avenue, Tropico, last week.

Miss Grace Palmer, the niece of Mrs. E. J. Morgan of Tropico, and who is here from New York City, is visiting this week in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ginn, 128 Orange street, left Friday evening of this week for Fresno, Cal., where they will make their future home.

Mrs. E. J. Morgan and son Eric of 309 W. Palmer avenue, Tropico, were guests of Mrs. Morgan's sister, Mrs. A. W. Colilns, of Los Angeles Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. P. O. Lucas of 1458 Riverdale drive, Tropico, attended the recital given at the Ebell club house in Los Angeles Friday evening by Miss Helene Morgan, the talented pianist of Tropico.

Mrs. Chas. Shattuck of W. Broadway went to San Gabriel Saturday, where she was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Armstrong, where a reunion of former Michigan residents was held.

Mrs. Emma J. Brook and daughter Miss Bess of Wichita, Kansas, who had been visiting at the home of J. Doyle Porter on Central avenue, leave for their Kansas home Monday.

Among the ladies who attended the Friday Morning club in Los Angeles yesterday were Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Luther Brown, Miss Rosemary Button, Mrs. A. F. Howard, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker and Mrs. P. S. McNutt. A very delightful talk by Sir Granville Barker was enjoyed, his subject being, "Why Worry with Art," the chief thought of which was that we should all live the beautiful life.

We are pleased to announce that Dr. C. Stuart Steelman, whose office heretofore has been at 1104 W. Seventh street, has deemed it necessary to move to larger quarters to accommodate his growing clientele. He has procured office quarters with the Glendale Book Store at 413 S. Brand boulevard, which will be known as the Glendale Optical Shop, where the same high standard of optical efficiency will be found.

A number of the members of the Tropico M. E. church went to Hollywood Friday to spend the day with Rev. and Mrs. S. Goodsell, formerly of Tropico. A very pleasant day was spent by the ladies in sewing on fancy work and social conversation. Those who went over were Mrs. Sterling, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Cramer, Mrs. N. E. Lucas, Mrs. P. O Lucas, Mrs. Augustus, Mrs. Millard, Mrs. Tisdale, Mrs. Wallace, Rev. Don. S. Ford, Master Obed Lucas.

PRESBYTERIAN MODERATOR

The Rev. John A. Marquis, D.D., L.L.D., Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., is spending a week on the Pacific coast in the interest of the Presbyterian church at large, and by a fortunate arrangement he has been secured to make an address in the Glendale Presbyterian church next Saturday evening, 7:30. The original date was Friday evening, March 9th, but owing to other plans he could be secured only on Saturday, the 10th. The invitation to this meeting is a general one. Not only are all Presbyterians invited, but members and friends of all other churches, together with their pastors.

Dr. Marquis is among the leading Presbyterians in this country, and the visit of so distinguished a speaker and leader will insure a large attendance.

Invitations have been sent to the churches of the San Fernando valley, Pasadena, Hollywood, and many from Los Angeles will be in attendance.

A complimentary dinner will be served at the church to the Moderator and visiting Presbyterian clergymen.

Remember the date, Saturday evening, March 10, 7:30.

STOCK SOLD AT SHERIFF SALE

The "B. B. B." Cash Store at Park avenue and Brand boulevard was closed out to the highest and best bidder at sheriff's sale Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. J. J. Shugarman of Los Angeles bid the stock and fixtures in at $680. The invoice on the stock was $1875, but consisted largely of odd sizes and remnants. The B. B. B. store was organized by H. G. Bradford three years ago, who had had considerable experience in the dry goods and notion business and for a time the store seemed to do a very good business, until Mr. Bradford's health began to fail and he was compelled to retire from active management.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY XXV. GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT

San. Fernando Valley is shaped like an egg. Like an egg it is full of richness, with Glendale in the vital part of the golden heart. With Mr. Ezra Parker, his father, Mr. Samuel Parker, (author of the poem "Patriotism")and Mr. Owen, I have just driven through Burbank, Lankershim, Universal City, Hollywood and Tropico, and back into Glendale. My genial host, one of Glendale's pioneer citizens knows something about most of the places we passed, particularly on the road to his new apricot orchard some ten miles away in the center of a valley view worth a day's journey to see. Orchards in bloom with the green shades of alfalfa and barley melting into darker forest greens, with peaceful homes, all guarded by the circling mountains. It is a shame how people have lost money in that matchless valley. I refer to those who sold out for half or quarter of what they could readily get now. One of Glendale's best known citizens parted with a Burbank lot at what seemed a convincing price; only to learn not very long afterwards that the adjoining lot brought $500 more. It is like losing five hundred through a hole in one's pocket. Burbank building is busily booming. Lankershim's lands lusciously loom with fruit trees in bloom. Glendale's greatness gracefully grows; Graciously guarding generous gifts for generations yet unborn.

Does any reader of the News personally know William A. Schiller, 1215 Washington avenue, Flint, Michigan, or R. M. Lawrence, 632 Ransom street, Ripon, Wisconsin? Both these gentlemen are considering Glendale as a home. Letters from people of their state, county or town, might be the final moving cause of getting them to Glendale. The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has answered their letters, and also sent literature including local papers.

"California has a charm all its own," said Mr. W. B. Kirk, the former very successful secretary of Glendale's Chamber of Commerce. True as gospel and Glendale is that chief charm of California.

Think of all the things which had to happen before the sheep pasture, part of the old Verdugo ranch could be metamorphosed into the present Glendale. It was but a straggling country village when it was incorporated in 1906. A true prophecy of the present made at that time, would have been received as incredulously as would be now a prophecy of what Glendale will become before eleven more years roll around. It would be very interesting to think it over, make a guess or an estimate, if you will, of what Glendale will be in 1928. Then write it down in some book where it will be preserved. It might not be a bad plan to look at it every succeeding March, to see how your guess approximates the reality.

The writer will hazard an estimate.

The bridge now contemplated, and several others will be completed.

The Broadway extension will long have put us on the circuit of the sight-seers.

The foot-hill boulevard will have been finished several years, being the most beautiful and attractive driveway through GREATER GLENDALE—composed of Tropico, Eagle Rock, Crescenta, North Glendale and Glendale proper; all under one municipality, with at least forty or fifty thousand people.

Also two or more large department stores where people can buy whatever they want. Therein, at suitable places, not detracting from but adding to real estate values, will be great industrial concerns with improved machinery, furnaces and fuel so there will be little noise, practically no smoke or dust, dirt or any other "matter out of place." But there will be employment for hundreds of cleanly, wholesome, healthy, intelligent employes, whose adequate salaries will keep much money in circulation here; to the betterment of producer, merchant, manufacturer, consumer, and the thriving city of Greater Glendale, itself; together with all its orders, associations, clubs, fraternities and churches, organized for the mutual helpfulness which is the natural expression of a humanity realizing its own innate, and demonstrated need of wide-spread, constant, intelligent cooperation; whether in peace or war; whether for work at home or abroad.

Those only who unite win permanent success.

The basic reason for that universal truth is this: None of us is wholly dependent; none entirely independent; but we are all mutually interdependent, and as human beings must by nature so remain. Therefore the way for intelligent, successful doing is clear.

In closing this series of studies in personal development, I wish to express my gratitude for the kindly appreciation given them. If they shall help on with the growth and development of Glendale, their chief object will have been attained.

Meanwhile, as Secretary of Glendale's Chamber of Commerce, it will give me pleasure to do what I can to aid in any work for Glendale's betterment.

ALHAMBRA SELECTED

After investigating locations and conditions, Horticultural Commissioner Hecke has decided to locate a branch insectary at Alhambra. This decision followed a personal visit by Mr. Hecke and Harry S. Smith, Supt. of the State Insectary.

Direct charge of the new plant will be assumed by E. J. Brannigan, who has had years of experience in the State Insectary at Sacramento. He will probably move his family to Alhambra and begin his work early in March. Supt. Smith will devote three months to work in the southern field, and every effort will be made to extend the benefits of the branch as rapidly as possible.

Millions are poured into our colleges and universities to educate the brains of America, while almost nothing is done to educate the hearts. —George T. Angell.

There should be no more question of giving humane education to every child born into the world than there is of teaching him to read.—Journal of Zo-ophily.

JUSTIFIED

If I were to show you my policy-record I believe you would agree with me that I have a right to be proud of my policy-holders in Glendale. They represent our best-known citizens — both men and women. I could not afford to sell them insurance in a company which would be untrue to their interests in any particular. If there is one of them who is not pleased, I don't know it.

I would be glad to have you on our list if you are morally and physically fit.

If we haven't met, let's get acquainted.

BIDS FOR INSURANCE

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale will receive sealed bids for a policy of Insurance in the sum of $12,500 for term of three years, on the
CARNEGIE LIBRARY BUILDING
situated on the northwest corner of Kenwood and Fifth streets, Glendale, up to 7:30 p. m. March 8, 1917 at the Clerk's office in the City Hall. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

J. C. SHERER,
City Clerk.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

Public Notice is hereby given that at its meeting on February 23, 1917, the Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale, fixed Thursday, March 8, 1917 at 8 o'cock p. m. in the Council Chamber in the City Hall, as the time and place where any or all objections against the levying of the assessment for the improvement of Canada Boulevard, from Wabasso Way to Verdugo Canon Road. The estimate made by the Street Superintendent of said City upon the lands, lots and portions of lots in the district assessed for said improvement, and the amount of benefits arising from the work of said improvement as fixed by said Street Superintendent, may be heard, it being the belief of the protestants that the amounts assessed upon certain parcels of land are excessive and that upon others the amounts are deficient.

THE REASON WHY

An English militant crusader strolled into a barn when a young man was milking a cow. With a snort she asked: "How is it that you are not at the front, young man?"

"Because, ma'am," answered the milker, "there ain't no milk at that end."—The Ladies' Home Journal.

The fair young creature was becoming very impatient and finally exclaimed:

"Mercy! We have waited thirty minutes. We'll miss the opera waiting for that mother of mine."

"Hours, I should say," he replied, none too sweetly.

"Ours!" she cried rapturously. "Oh, Will, this is so unexpected." And she fell upon his neck.

J. F. CHANDLER ENGAGES IN REAL ESTATE BUSINESS

J. F. Chandler, who has for a number of years been a resident of Glendale, has entered the real estate business in Glendale, securing the office formerly known as Colby's Little Log Cabin.

The recently organized chapter of the American Red Cross in Monrovia which now has a membership of seventy-five with a board of directors of forty, has begun a campaign to secure a membership of 1000. Four first aid classes, two in the afternoon and two at night are being conducted by Dr. C. B. Caldwell and are well attended. The rudiments of field hospital work are taught and the course will include a number of subjects along the line of Red Cross work.

THANKSGIVING

Those who walk in the path of pride, crushing the lowly life under their tread, spreading their footprints in blood upon the tender green of the earth—

Let them rejoice and thank thee, Lord, for the day is theirs.

But Thou hast done well in leaving me with the humble, whose doom is to suffer and bear the burden of power, and hide their faces and stifle their sobs in the dark.

For every throb of their pain has pulsed in the secret depth of Thy might, and every insult has been gathered in Thy great silence.

And the morrow is theirs.

O sun, rise upon the bleeding hearts blossoming in flowers of the morning, and the torchlight revelry of pride hiding in its own ashes.—Rabindranath Tagore.

DON'T FORGET

The man who hasn't the time to do things that are worth while, is probably doing some things that are not.

It's all right to take an interest in other people's affairs, but don't take more of an interest than they do themselves.

A man's value in the world is estimated and paid for according to the ability he uses, not what he possesses.

There is a time for all things, but it is often not the time that we would select.

Men, like automobiles, to a great extent, are judged by their "hill-climbing ability."

Many a man gets a pretty bad fall from being thrown on his own resources.

I see the youngest soldier to enter the civil war is dead again.

Anticipated pleasure usually arrives looking like a pall bearer in disguise.

A lantern-jawed husband is sometimes the light of a woman's existence.

It does the poet good to get the editor to bite on the poem he refused six months before.

Not even the saloon keeper asks you where you got your money when you are spending it.

Wise is the young man who finds his wife's biscuits are even better than those mother made.

The price of necessities has a mean way of keeping just ahead of a fellow's raise in salary.

Now come on—everybody. Let's all smile to-day just like we do when we have our "pitchers took."

The friend in need is never particularly enthusiastic.

Sunday Services at the Churches

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

11:00 a. m. "Every-Member-Present-Service" will be held. It is desired that every member of the church and congregation will be present.

The pastor will present matters that are vital to the deepest and best interest of the church and to the individual spiritual life.

A division of the morning message will gather around the ditty: "If every church member was a member just like me, what kind of a church would my church be?"

7:30 p. m. Dr. Willisford will have for the sermon theme another of the great sayings of Jesus. "I am the Door."

9:45 a. m. Sunday School assembles.

6:15 p. m. Junior Intermediate.

6:30 p. m. Intermediate C. E.

Church location, Central at Third.

On account of the friendly attitude of its members, this church is often called the "Friendly Church."

The pastor will have another of those really worth while stories for the boys and girls at the morning service.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

"Playing the Fool—On the Eligible List?" will be the theme for the Sunday evening sermon at the First Methodist church. What does the Bible say about foolish men and their follies? When do men take the degree? People of red blood, who recognize that life is more than forms, creeds and ceremonies, should hear this message. The people's church with a welcome for all always.

At the morning church hour the pastor will speak on "Putting the Edge on Life."

At each service there will be appropriate musical numbers by the choir.

Bible School, 9:40 a. m.

Class Meeting, 12:15 p. m.

Epworth League, 6:30 p. m.

Church location, Third and Dayton court.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Seventh street near Everett. Mass at 8 and 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 9 a. m. Baptisms at 2 p. m.

WEST GLENDALE METHODIST CHURCH
(Corner Fifth and Pacific)

"Neutrals." Is it always best to be neutral? Are you? If you are or are not you ought to hear the sermon at the evening service on this subject. Something will be said for all kinds of people. Be there and receive your share. At the morning hour the pastor will give the second in the series of Lenten sermons on the subject, "The Lost Christ." The League will be led by Miss Zella Keims. A very profitable hour is promised for all who attend. Remember the Sunday School hour. Strangers always welcome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Second St. and Maryland avenue. Services, Sunday 11 a. m. The lesson sermon is from the Christian Science quarterly Bible lessons. Subject, Sunday, March 4, "Christ Jesus."

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8.

Reading room, 415½ S. Brand Blvd., open daily except Sundays and holidays from 12 m. to 4 p. m.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Pre-millenial coming of Christ, the only solution of present world problems" is the subject of a popular sermon Sunday evening, 7:30. Text, "This know also that in the last days perilous times shall come." 2 Tim., 3:1.

Morning worship, 11 o'clock. Sermon topic, "The Challenge." The pastor will preach at both services. Sabbath school, 9:30. Junior Endeavor, 3 p. m. Intermediates, 4:30. C. E. meeting, 6:15.

CASA VERDUGO M. E. CHURCH

Julius Soper, Pastor
(Sunday, March 4)

9:45 a. m. Sunday School.

11:00 a. m. Subject of Sermon, "Our Future Program."

6:30 p. m. Epworth League. Subject, "Preparing Happy Memories."

7:30 p. m. Subject of Sermon, "Remission of Sin and Happiness."

Cordial welcome awaits all who come.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Progress on every hand is the signal that flashes forth the spirit of the Lutheran Church in Glendale. The growth of the Sunday School and congregation, while not stunning, is remarkable and satisfactory. The financial support is another commendable feature of the work. This week the first nail was driven in the erection of their new chapel. It is now so far along as to give members and friends an idea of what it will look like when done. Very complimentary remarks are made on every side in praise of securing the fine location and also in the beauty, neatness and usefulness of the building.

The cornerstone will be formally laid on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with all due ceremonies, special music and addresses.

Sunday School services at 9:45. Worship at 11 o'clock. Subject: "Our Father's Bread." Evening services in the "White House" (parsonage) at 7:30, next door to the chapel on Fifth and Maryland.

THE HOMELIKE CHURCH

Sunday morning's sermon at the Christian church is to be on the subject, "Imperative Need of Foreign Missions," and it is Foreign Missionary day. In the evening the subject is the third of the great series, "Our Plea." Every disciple of Christ should hear this sermon, for our plea is one of love and devotion and we do love all our brethren, whether in our own congregation or any other. We look for a crowded house. With bright weather almost certain we expect to exceed the 200 mark in the Sunday School. Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. and it will be a big meeting, for that looming convention acts as a spur to the young people.

Next Friday at 2 p. m. Miss Pounds, a returned missionary from Mexico, will speak before the C. W. B. M. Auxiliary, which will hold its regular meeting on that day. Everybody invited.

STICK TO FACTS SAYS DR. GRADGRIND

"Now what I want is Facts. Teach these boys and girls nothing but Facts. Facts alone are wanted in life. . . . Stick to Facts, sir!"

The scene was a plain, bare, monotonous vault of a school-roof, and the speaker's square forefinger emphasized his observations by underscoring every sentence on the schoolmaster's sleeve. The emphasis was helped by the speaker's square wall of a forehead which had his eyebrows for its base, while his eyes found commodious cellarage in two dark caves, overshadowed by the wall. The emphasis was helped by the speaker's mouth, which was wide, thin, and hard set. The emphasis was helped by the speaker's voice, which was inflexible, dry, and dictatorial. The emphasis was helped by the speaker's hair, which bristled on the skirts of his bald head, a plantation of firs to keep the wind from its shining surface, all covered with knobs, like the crust of a plum-pie, as if the head had scarcely warehouse room for the hard facts stored inside. The speaker's obstinate carriage, square coat, square legs, square shoulders—nay, his very neckcloth, trained to take him by the throat with an unaccommodating grasp, like a stubborn fact, as it was—all helped the emphasis.

"In this life we want nothing but Facts, sir; nothing but Facts!"

The speaker, and the schoolmaster, and the third grown person present, all backed a little, and swept with their eyes the inclined plane of little vessels then and there ranged in order, ready to have imperial gallons of facts poured into them until they were full to the brim.—Charles Dickens in "Hard Times."

THE SMILE THAT WON'T COMF OFF

The man who smiles is always welcome. You are glad to see him come and sorry to see him go. To the man who keeps smiling the latchstring is always on the outside. He is the life of the party, the gilt edge on the rim of the cloud, the sunshine of the home. On the other hand, you will go nine blocks out of the way to avoid the man who always carries his face in a sling. The man with a grouch who never smiles is poor company and is left to flock with himself. A smile doesn't cost you anything, yet is worth more than money to many a discouraged plodder. A smile might be compared with a golden coin that circulates in a large circle from the face of the one who started it, gladdening many hearts on its way. When you smile kindly it is a good deal like casting your cake upon the water—some day it will come back to you with frosting on. Being a grouch doesn't get you anything. The man who has the props knocked out from under him and can come up smiling is the man who wins. There is enough sorrow and sadness in this old world, enough glumness and grouchiness, without you adding to it. Wear the smile that won't come off and you can't help winning in the game of life.

LEAVING NO STONE UNTURNED

An Irishman recently arrived in New York City lost his watch. He went to the police station and told the desk sergeant of his loss. The officer jollied him a little and finally reasurred him by saying that "no stone would be left unturned until the timepiece was restored to its owner." Pat returned to his room and there on the mantel piece where he had left it was his watch. The next morning as he was going to work he saw a gang tearing up an old granite block pavement preparatory to laying a new surface. Pat rushed up to the foreman and exclaimed: "Niver boind that now, Oi found me watch."

GIVE HIM A HAMMER AND SAW

Don't buy him a sword and a gun,
Whose purpose on earth is to kill;
Don't each him that murder is fun,
Or something the bosom to thrill.
Don't send him to valley or hill
To slaughter the dove or the daw,
A lesson in youth to instill,
Just give him a hammer and saw.

Just give him some lumber of pine,
Just give him a bundle of boards
And teach him to follow a line,
And teach him a builder's rewards.
Oh, better than rifles or swords,
Than stilling a song or a caw,
The thing that he fashions affords
The boy with a hammer and saw.

He'll work like a beaver, the boy,
He'll learn like the wisest again
The tree of the woods to employ.
He'll fashion a house for the wren,
He'll make you a trinket, and then
He'll figure and study and draw—
He'll learn all the lessons of men
If you give him a hammer and saw.

So teach him to work and to plan
The pleasure that laboring brings.
So make him a builder, a man,
And not a destroyer of things.
For closer the artisan clings
To family, country and law
Than soldiers or swordsmen or kings—
So give him a hammer and saw.

POLITENESS

"Politeness costs nothing," observed the sage.

"That's right," observed the fool. "Politeness is merely the art of not letting people know what you think of them."
